WASHINGTON.

The Chinese Bill Passes the House by a Vote of 177 to 65.

Page Makes a Vigorous Closing Appeal—The President Will Probably Sign the Bill.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 23.—Page closed the debate on the Chinese bill with a brief and vigorous defense of the bill, and an earnest appeal for its passage. The amendment reducing the term of suspension to fifteen years was rejected by a vote of 99 against 81. THE CHINESE BILL PASSES BY A HANDSOME MAJORITY.

In the debate on the Chinese bill Butterworth's amendment limiting the term of suspension to fifteen years was lost without a call of the yeas and nays. A large number of amendments were then voted upon, but were all lost without a division being called for. The bill was then passed by a vote of 177 yeas to 65 nays. The following is the vote in detail: Yeas—Aiken, Aldrich, Armfield, Atkins, Bayne, Bedford, Belmont, Berry, Bingham, Blackburn, Blanchard, Bass, Blount, Brewer, Brumm, Buckner, Burrows, (Missouri), Butterworth, Cobell, Caldwell, Calkins, Campbell, Cannon, Cassidy, Caswell, Chalmers, Chapman, Clark, Clements, Cobb, Converse, Cook, Cornell, Cox, (N. Y.), Cox, (N. C.), Covington, Cravens, Culberson, Curtin, Darrell, Davidson, Davis, (Ill.), Davies, (Mo.), Demott, Deuster, Dezerford, Dibble, Dittrell, Dowd, Dugro, Ementrout, Everett, Farwell, (Ill.), Finley, Flower, Ford, Forney, Fulkerson, Garrison, Geddes, George, Gibson, Gunther, Gutter, Hammond, (Ga.), Hardy, Harmer, Harris, (N. J.), Hazeltine, Hatch, Hazelton, Heilmann, Herndon, Hewitt, (N. Y.), Hill, Hiscok, Hoblitzell, Hoge, Helman, Horst, Hauck, House, Hubbell, Hubbs, Hutchins, Jones, (Tex.), Jones, (Ark.), Jorgensen, Kenna, King, Klotz, Knott, Ladd, Ledford, Lewis, Marsh, Martin, Wilson, McClure, McCook, McKenzle, McKinley, McLane, McMillan, Miller, (Tex.), Money, Morcy, Moulton, Murch, Mutchler, O'Neill, Pacheco, Page, Paul, Payson, Pease, Phelps, Plummer, Pound, Randall, Reagan, Rice, (Mo.), Richardson, Robertson, Robinson, Rosencrans, Scranton, Shallenberger, Sherwin, Simonson, Singleton, (Miss.), Smith, (Penn.), P. Smith, (Ill.), Smith, (N. Y.), Sparks, Spaulding, Speer, Springer, Stockslager, Strait, Talbot, Thomas, Thompson, (Kentucky), Treman, Townsend, (Ohio), Townsend, (Ill.), Tucker, Turner, (Ga.), Turner, (Ky.), Updegraff, Upson, Valentine, Vance, Van Arman, Warner, Washburne, Webster, Wellborn, Williams, (Ala.), Willis, Willits, Wilson, Wise, (Pa.), Wise, (Va.), and W. A. Wood, (N. Y.), total, 187.

Nays—Anderson, Barr, Bragg, Buck, Briggs, Brown, Camp, Carey, Carpenter, Chase, Crapo, Cullen, Dawes, Dewing, Dingley, Dannel, Dwight, Farwell, (Iowa), Grant, Hall, Hammond, (N. Y.), Hardenberg, Harris, (Mass.), Haskell, Hawk, Henderson, Hepburn, Hooker, Humphrey, Jacobs, Jones, (N. J.), Joyce, Kasson, Ketcham, Lord, McCord, Moore, Norcross, Orth, Parker, Ranney, Rice, (Ohio), Rice, (Mass.), Richardson, (N. The House then, at 5:30 p. m., adjourned.

THE ANTI-POLYGAMY BILL SIGNED. President Arthur has approved the anti-polygamy bill.

MONITORS TO BE BUILT. The House Committee on Naval Affairs recommend the appropriation of $2,500,000 to complete the unfinished monitors.

NOMINATIONS FOR THE PRESIDENT. John H. Smith, of North Carolina, as Minister Resident and Consul General of the United States to Liberia; Emory P. Beauchamp, of Indiana, as U. S. Consul at St. Gall; James W. Ureson, of Missouri, as U. S. Consul at Three Rivers, Quebec.

INTERNAL REVENUE. The House Committee on Ways and Means have been directed to report, with favorable recommendation, and for consideration at the earliest practicable day a bill to amend the laws relating to internal revenue. They reported to the House on Friday last, which was published at the time.

MAJORITY CONFIRMED. The Senate confirmed A. L. Mason, of Illinois, U. S. Marshal for New Mexico.

JONES SAYS ARTHUR WILL NOT VETO THE BILL. Jones, of Nevada, was asked this evening whether he credited the report that the President was disposed to veto the Chinese bill. "No," replied the Senator. "Some of our people are apprehending a veto, but I am not. My confidence does not spring from anything the President has said to me, but from my knowledge of the opinion he entertains concerning the exercise of the veto power. If the President thinks the term of twenty years is the restrictive clause of the pending measure strains the treaty, he might find in that provision a possible ground for his veto but for the fact that the representatives of the people have had the same question before them, and with their eyes open and after full discussion of that very feature, have decided, by a good majority, that it was within the scope of the treaty."

PAUSE'S MOTION FOR THE PREVIOUS QUESTION CARRIED.

The debate on the Chinese bill was continued by Pacheco and Townsend, (Ill.), in favor, and Robinson, (Mass.), against it. Numerous amendments were then offered, and Page, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, demanded the previous question, which was seconded by a practically unanimous vote. One hour being allowed for closing the debate, Page yielded ten minutes to Robinson to finish his remarks. He denounced the bill in its present shape as in violation of the treaty, but said he would vote for ten years suspension. The amendment reducing the term of suspension to ten years was put to the vote and rejected by 131 yeas against 100 yeas.

AFTER THE RAILROADS. A bill was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Cassidy to compel the survey of lands embraced within the railroad subsidy limits. It sets forth that more than 25,000,000 acres remain unsurveyed out of the lands granted to the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific Railways, and that these companies, by their failure to cause a survey to be made, evade the taxes in which they are liable for the revenues to which they are justly entitled. The bill directs the Secretary of the Interior to cause the proper surveys to be made and to issue land patents to the companies and make the land subject to taxation from the date of execution of the patents. It was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

BLATCHFORD CONFIRMED. Among the Senate confirmations is that of Samuel Blatchford, of New York, as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

SHIPWRECK ON TRIAL. The examination of Shipherd was resumed this morning before the House Committee on Foreign Relations.

EASTERN. The Bark T. Jeffe Southward Wrecked. NEW YORK, March 23.—The bark T. Jeffe Southward, hence from San Francisco, January 29th, is ashore at Natal, Brazil, south of Cape St. Roque. She is a total loss. Part of her cargo is saved, but it is of little value.

CHILI TELLS WHAT SHE WILL DO. Advice from Panama to March 11th are as follows: A Chilean official paper publishes the protocol between Treco and the Chilean government. Although it appears without signatures, it is considered authentic. Chili declares that she meant no offense to the United States by the arrest of Calderon. The Chilean government declares it will not treat with Senor Calderon, and will make peace only on the following conditions: The cession of Tarapaca in perpetuity; the occupation of Peru as far as Moquegua until an indemnity of $20,000,000 is paid, and the possession of half of the guano islands of Peru.

SMALL-POX IN CHICAGO. Fifteen cases of small pox, with seven deaths are reported to-day, the largest since July. Cause, cold weather.

Blown into Eternity. PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—The tugboat Henry C. Pratt exploded her boiler this morning, killing four men. George Scully, the captain, was blown over the house tops in Water street. The dead bodies of Bernard McCann and Patrick Flanagan, firemen, and a man named Maloney are missing. Immediately following the explosion flames broke out in all directions. Pier No. 8, which is occupied as a passenger and freight station of the Philadelphia & Atlantic City Railroad, took fire and was destroyed. The tug Ella Lynch, at the wharf, also took fire and sank, after being well burned. Windows were shattered in all directions for squares. Three dead bodies were found. The front of the ferry house building was blown out and the watchman came near losing his life.

THE RIVERSIDE FAIR.

A Grand Display by all Surrounding Sections.

Full Particulars of the Exercises Last Night—Speeches, Essays, and a General Good Time by All.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

THE RIVERSIDE FAIR. RIVERSIDE, March 23.—The formal opening of the Riverside Fair took place this evening, all vacant space in the hall being filled by an intelligent and appreciative audience. The meeting was called to order.

At eight o'clock by H. B. Evans, President of the Riverside Fair Association. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Deere and an opening address made by H. J. Rudisell on the

LESSONS AND ADVANTAGES OF FAIRS. The success of such enterprises at Riverside, and the duties of Riverside in the future. Then followed SHORT SPEECHES. By some of the old settlers, including Judge North first President of the Colony Association, and General Stone-man of San Gabriel.

A GAVEL OF LEMON WOOD. Furnished by L. M. Holt, of the Riverside Press and Horticulturist, was presented to the President by Judge North. Thos. A. Geary, of Los Angeles, read

AN ESSAY ON ORANGE Culture, which was followed by a general discussion upon the topic fruit culture. G. W. Garcelon, of Riverside, read a paper on the PROFITS OF CITRUS CULTURE. And raisins, which was followed by a report by James Betner on the trade in foreign lemons. Jeanne C. Carr read a short

PAPER ON SERICULTURE. And the exercises closed with the announcement of the names of the committees of award. The proceedings were interspersed with music by the Riverside band. There have been FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY FOUR ENTRIES of citrus fruits, all of which are worthy of premiums.

THE FAIR IS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS. The town being full of visitors and beds are at a premium. The display is three times greater than ever before. Owing to the non-arrival of the chan deliers the formal opening was postponed until this evening. The Riverside display covers four large tables, and San Diego fills one table, making

THE FINEST EXHIBIT OF ANY LOCALITY Outside of this county. The display of raisins and canned fruit is extensive and very fine.

Arrival of Relief for the Flood Sufferers. HELENA, Ark., March 24.—The arrival of the relief boat General Barnard was welcomed last night by many anxious hearts. The rations are fewer than anticipated, and before another arrival there must be as much suffering as heretofore. Commissioner Mangum went to points below in the C. B. House, where there is said to be discontent among many, there being a few of the sub-commissioners who have been using supplies wrongfully, seeking to aggrandize themselves instead of bestowing them upon the genuine sufferers. Commissioner Mangum will look into these affairs and settle them properly before returning. A prominent physician from Hickman, Mississippi county, says he knows about three hundred persons living without the necessities of life. Nearly all their stock has perished, and the few remaining are fast disappearing with starvation under their eyes. There is not a visible spot of land, not even the top of a house, in some places. The water rose with such rapidity that it was impossible to build rafts upon which to place the stock. Most of the people huddled together on the tops of houses, in consequence of which a violent form of scarlet fever has broken out.

Meeting of the Illinois Legislature. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 23.—The Legislature met at noon to-day. The Governor's message was heard, and, after a little business was transacted, an adjournment was had. The message refers to the various reasons for calling the session, namely re-apportionment, the revision of the criminal code, and the canal question.

FOREIGN. Restrictions on Debate—The Ministry. LONDON, March 22.—In the Commons the Marquis of Hartington declared that the closure proposal was nothing more than the modification of the existing restrictions on debates, the effect of which resolution had been greatly exaggerated. The government was unable, under the present system, to carry on the business of the country with dignity and effect. If other persons thought they could do so, the ministry would with pleasure resign; but so long as the ministry remained responsible they must appeal to the House to give them those powers which alone are sufficient for the conduct of business. The debate was then adjourned.

AMENDMENT TO THE LAND ACT. At a meeting of the Irish party of the House of Commons last night it was decided to introduce a bill amending the Land Act and dealing with the Healey clause, in order to set aside the limitation recently imposed by the decision in the Adams-Dunsmuir case. The party decided to vote against the closure measure.

Released From Jail. DUBLIN, March 22.—Five suspects were released from Limerick Jail to-day.

SUPPORTS THE CLOSURE RESOLUTIONS. Smyth, Home Rule Member of Parliament from Tipperary, announces his intention to support the closure resolutions.

The Czar Spares Their Lives. PARIS, March 22.—While Victor Hugo was entertaining the staff of the Rappel newspaper last evening, a telegram was received from St. Petersburg announcing that the Czar had spared the lives of the five nihilists in whose behalf Victor Hugo had pleaded. On hearing the news Victor Hugo toasted the Czar.

PACIFIC COAST. Associated Press Dispatches.] SAN FRANCISCO BUDGET. Interesting Exercises at the State University.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—To-day being the fourteenth anniversary of the granting of the State Charter to the University of California, it was celebrated at Berkeley by appropriate and interesting exercises. Addresses were delivered by C. E. Hayes, Prof. John Le Conte, Wm. A. Beatty and Miss May L. Shepherd. The oration was delivered by Wm. D. Ames. Vocal and instrumental music, interspersed with literary exercises, closed the ceremonies.

STEAM WHALING VESSELS FOR THE ARCTIC. A steam whaling vessel will shortly be launched for Captain Charles Goodall and Miller Griffith. She will be commanded by Capt. Smith, of the whaling brig Tropic Bird, and will leave for the Arctic the latter part of April.

TWO NEW VESSELS. In addition to the vessel named some gentlemen have just closed a contract for two more steam whalers, the first of which the contractors guarantee to deliver on October 1st. She will get off as soon as possible thereafter for the Arctic. The other vessel will be ready for the next season.

AFTERNOON STOCKS. Con. Virginia, 75c; Curry, 34; Ophir, 3; Nevada, 74; Eureka, 20; Best, 64; Utah, 81; Diablo, 53; Belle, 84; Savage, 95c; Mono, 14.

A SICKENING ACCIDENT. Yesterday morning the dead body of Samuel Parsons, of East Oakland, was found in the estuary under the Central Pacific Railroad trestle, between Clinton and Oak Stations. When the body was recovered from the water it was found that the skull was fractured clear across the forehead, the left ear was almost cut off, the nose completely smashed in, and the right arm broken. Upon examining the trestle-work two pools of blood were found upon the ties. The theory of his death is that he must have fallen from the last car of the train, striking the ties with his head, and that after partially recovering consciousness he endeavored to drag himself away, and in doing so crossed to the opposite side of the trestle from which he fell, and, blinded by blood, fell into the bay.

Still After the Earps. TOMBSTONE, A. T., March 23.—A Sheriff's posse, consisting of twenty men, mostly cow-boys, left this morning for the Dragon mountains, where the Earps are supposed to be at present. The Sheriff made a weak attempt to arrest them at the Cosmopolitan Hotel before they left, but Wyatt Earp told him he didn't want to see him, that he had seen him once too often, and thereupon the Earp party mounted their horses and rode away. There is a very uneasy feeling among the cowboy element, as the Earps are rendered desperate by the attempted assassination of Virgil Earp and the cold-blooded murder of Morgan Earp.

A WOMAN GIVES THE PLOT AWAY. The coroner's jury find that Morgan Earp came to his death at the hands of Frank Stillwell (who was killed next day in Tucson), Pete Spence, one Freis, and two half-breed Indians. Pete Spence's wife exposes the plot.

THE EARPS KILL ANOTHER MAN. This afternoon Theodore D. Judah came in from Pete Spence's wood camp, in the South Pass of the Dragon mountains, and gave the following information: Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock Wyatt and Warren Earp, Doc Holliday, McMahers, Texas Jack and Johnson came into camp and inquired for Pete Spence and Indian Charley. They also inquired as to the number of men there and their whereabouts. Judah informed them that Spence was at Tombstone and that the Mexican named Florentino was looking for some stock which had strayed away. Judah indicated the direction taken by the Mexican, and the party immediately left as directed, passing over the hill which hid them from view. A few minutes later ten or twelve shots were heard, and Florentino not returning this morning, Judah proceeded in search of him and found his body not far from camp riddled with bullets. Judah immediately came to town with the news.

Crushed by Love. NAPA, March 23.—John C. Wineberger, a well-known and respected citizen of St. Helena, aged about 53 years, was shot dead at noon to-day at Lodi station, near St. Helena, by W. J. Gan, aged about 33 years, who then shot himself, dying instantly. Gan wanted to marry Wineberger's daughter, but the father objected.

THIRD DAY.

The Trial of Jacob Phillipi Comes to an End.

The Jury Disagree and are Discharged—They Stand Seven for Conviction and Five for Acquittal.

The case of the People against Phillipi, charged violating the Sunday law, was called up yesterday at 10:30 A. M., in the Police Court.

THE JUDGE'S DECISION.
Judge Adams reported the following as his decision the day before:

Even though it be true that the charter of the city of Los Angeles—its Act of the Legislature—was passed subsequently to the so-called Sunday law—a statute law of the State—still, unless specially authorized by the charter or organic act to do so, any ordinance or by-law passed in pursuance of the charter, so far as they conflict with the general law of the State, are null and void, and, therefore, immaterial and irrelevant and incompetent in evidence for any purpose whatever; and further, because the city charter does not, and does not assume, to repeal the general law of the State, either expressly or by implication.

JUDGE MORGAN ADDRESSES THE JURY.

Judge Morgan read the complaint and also the law to the jury, and in a few words called attention to the fact that the law was not on trial but the defendant, and that the latter had admitted his guilt, which admission was corroborated by nearly all the witnesses for the defense, as well as the prosecution. You are not trying this law. You are trying this man for violating it. You are deciding whether or not he is guilty of the crime charged in the indictment by the highest tribunal of the State.

COL. GODFREY.
Then addressed the jury. This case is far more important than the majority of cases that come before this court. By reason of certain peculiarities in the law it is invested with importance. There will be four arguments made. Mr. Morgan twice, myself and Mr. White each once, and perhaps Your Honor will make the fifth. On going into court yesterday I was shown a newspaper, the

He then read the communication in Wednesday's issue of the TIMES, signed "A Chinaman." Gentlemen of the jury, this is an old story. The Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California guarantee to every man who is accused of crime the right of trial before a jury, and not only gives him this right, but it gives him the right of counsel, and the counsel have the right to appear, and if they do not appear the court could find them. Here is a newspaper, pretending to be in the interest of reform, publishing articles denouncing attorneys for doing what they should do. This article was signed by a Chinaman. Only a few years ago an effort was made to clean out that nest of iniquity known as Chinatown, by enforcing the cubic air ordinance. We had jury trial before that. The people felt that it was a law against a class, that it was class legislation. We ask that you give the same show to an American citizen as you gave the Chinaman. Here is a law of the State of California, the charter of the city of Los Angeles, which

REPEALS THE SUNDAY LAW.
So far as the city of Los Angeles is concerned. This charter, emanating from the same power, repeals as far as the English language can repeal. It gives the city of Los Angeles the power to regulate, and it gives the City Council the power to determine how far it shall enforce. This charter is a public law. The prosecution is only against one class of business.

MORGAN—You do not know that the newspaper I read here this morning was open and its place of business was open on Sunday. Its proprietors have never been complained of.

THE TIMES business office was closed at 9 P. M. Saturday—E. D. TAMES.

Morgan—If you know it, why don't you file a complaint?
Godfrey—This Sunday law is to be used as an instrument by one class against another. He then spoke to the jury of the prosecution of William Penn, who was charged with the crime of being a dissenter from the established church of England, and how the jury refused, in the face of the pointed evidence, to convict him. My father had him.

HOMER RUM AND HIS SANTA CRUZ RUN.
All his life, and he lived to be eighty-three years old, and was three inches taller than I am. I remember away back in the State of Maine when OLD NEAL DOW.

The apostle of temperance, began his crusade. This was before they introduced

POISON INTO THEIR LIQUORS.
The way Maine became Republican was by stopping the whiskey. The Democrats had to leave. There is more drunkenness now there under prohibition laws than before. [Why don't the Democrats go back? Rex.] If you shut up our breweries the price of barley will go down; if you stop our saloons it will be the same with grapes. The CITY OFFICERS' SALARIES.

Come from the revenues from saloons and police courts. There is a sum of $8,000 in the city treasury in excess of all demands, why should the fine of this defendant be added to that amount? He compared the prosecution of this law to the burning of the Salem witches. He continued in this strain till 11:30 P. M., when the court adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
At 1:30 P. M. the court was re-assembled, and the jury answered to their names. The argument for the defense was conducted by STEPHEN M. WHITE.

His argument was chiefly on the intent of the pretended crime, and he grew eloquent at the encroachments of the religious class. He traced the Sunday law in this State, and he did the best he could for his client.

JUDGE MORGAN.
Made the closing speech. He said that the attorneys for the defendant had appealed to their passions and prejudices, and not their judgments.

THE LAW WAS NOT ON TRIAL.
Jacob Phillipi, the defendant, had knowingly and willfully kept open his saloon on the day prohibited by law, and transacted business therein. He had grossly violated one of the plain laws of the statute book of the State of California. He then read the

NOTICE CHIEF KING.
Had published in the local papers, warning all regarding the law. Ignorance of the law is no excuse. But there was no chance for any ignorance in this case. And yet this defendant

SWORE UPON THIS STAND.
That he had not heard of this law in the sixteen years of his saloon experience. Could it be possible he had not heard of the warning of the Chief of Police? The plea is put in that this law has not been enforced for nineteen years, therefore no conviction should be had. Suppose five hundred millions should come here and say, we have practiced polygamy for nineteen years, and therefore we should not be convicted!

THE DEFENDANT ADMITTED HIS GUILT.
Nearly every witness for the defense admitted the same. My duty is to prosecute the guilty. Suppose several hundred hoodlums should band together, and raise means to defend themselves as has the League of Freedom, should they not be convicted for their offenses? If the plain provisions of this law are to be overridden then may every other law be treated likewise. The people made their representatives, and their representatives made this law. Why did they make it if it is not to be enforced?

CHARGE OF THE COURT.

The following instructions were asked by the people:
Every person who keeps open on Sunday any store, workshop, bar, saloon, banking house, or other place of business for the purpose of transacting business therein, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by fine, not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, except that these provisions do not apply to persons who on Sunday keep open hotels, boarding houses, barber shops, bath, markets, restaurants, taverns, flery stables or retail drug stores for the legitimate business of each, or such manufacturing establishments as are usually kept in continuous operation, provided that the above provisions of the preceding, shall apply to persons keeping open barber shops, bath houses and hair dressing saloons after twelve o'clock P. M. on Sunday.

THE VERDICT.
When an act is unlawful an intent to do the act, having full knowledge of the facts, is a criminal intent without knowledge of the law, or knowledge that the act was unlawful.

THE JURY RETIRE.
The jury retired after 2 P. M., under the charge of Constable Ling. They dined at the Cosmopolitan Hotel last evening.

THE RETURN.
At 1:10 A. M. to-day the court re-assembled, the roll was called, and the jury answered to their names.

The Court—Have you agreed upon a verdict, gentlemen?

Jury, all—We have not.

Court—Is the defendant in court?

Godfrey—I don't make any defense; we will waive that; it is only a misdemeanor.

SEVEN TO FIVE.

Court—Mr. Chapman, what do you think about the possibility of an agreement?

Chapman—We have deliberated several times; it has stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

Each juror was then questioned and answered likewise. The court then dismissed the jury after thanking them for their kindness and patience manifested during the trial.

The jury were: Thomas Leahy, N. A. Covarrubias, W. B. Tullis, N. Patterson, Francis Baker, M. L. Gilman, A. B. Chapman, Charles Wickman, M. A. Marshall, George Seville, James Entwistle and L. Lewin.

Rev. O. C. Wheeler will deliver a lecture on Masonry next Saturday evening at Masonic Hall, McDonald block. All Masons and their families are invited. From the well-known reputation of the lecturer no doubt a large audience will be present.

Messrs. Seville & Tevis, of San Francisco, have leased the building No. 23 Los Angeles street, for two years, and will occupy the same with at $15,000 to $20,000 stock of paints, oils, glass, etc. Mr. E. A. Edwards will superintend the new enterprise.

Triumph of Love.

The repetition of this fairy spectacle and melodrama at Turnverein Hall last evening, was attended by an appreciative audience. The playing was much better than on the previous evening. The pose of characters, and the elocution was also better. Miss Ella Case, in song and dance, was encored twice. Miss Nouna Finner sustained her part well, while the various goddesses did nicely. The devil's drinking scene was well acted. The little fairies looked and did well. The same can be said of all. But the charm of the evening was the part taken by Tom Barnes, assisted by his pretty wife. It added spice to the fun dished up. The cable joke, the parquette, the money bag, the barber shop, and "Evelina's Cosmo-thermy" kept the audience in good humor. The tableau at the close caused those who stood therein, to look like marble statues. This opera will long be remembered here.

Justice Fisher Ties a Knot.

Judge Fisher this afternoon joined together in holy wedlock Mr. Clarence E. Grote, of Colton, to Miss Lela Fox, of this city, but recently a resident of Kansas. The bride was a most charming young lady, and was most elegantly dressed in cream-colored silk. The groom may feel proud that he has secured such an amiable life partner. The TIMES wishes the happy couple long and prosperous life in their journey of wedlock.

A Suggestion to the Courts.

It might be well to postpone the cases of violation of the Sunday law, for the present, at least. Mr. Proctor, who has figured carefully on the thing, says that in 15,000,000 years the water will have disappeared from the face of the globe. We shall all have to depend on beer and the like then.

RIVERSIDE.

Our Special Correspondent at the Citrus Fair.

The Trip—Colton—A Moonlight Drive—The Town Fair of Strangers—A Fine Exhibit—Visitors.

RIVERSIDE, March 23, 1892.

DEAR TIMES:—Two-thirty o'clock Wednesday afternoon saw your correspondent at the S. P. R. R. depot bound for Riverside. A few minutes later and we were rolling across the greenward made bright and beautiful by the recent ample storm. The journey was a most delightful one, and the company was excellent, and though the train, the Colton Accommodation, ran slowly, there was no lack of interest. Arriving at Colton at 6:30, we found no Riverside hack in waiting, but being determined to reach that place, a party consisting of Messrs. A. T. Dewey, of the Pacific Rural Press, O. C. Clark, of Sacramento, C. L. Fisher, the boot and shoe man of Los Angeles and your humble servant, obtained a carriage, and after regaling ourselves at the Trans-Continental Hotel, one of the finest and best appointed in Southern California, of which Mr. Thompson was the presiding genius, we started on what proved to be a most delightful moonlight drive. Riverside is distant seven miles from Colton in a southerly direction, and the road being very firm, the ride was short. The road skirts along the track of the California Southern a portion of the way, the tents of the laborers, who were all lighted up as we passed, giving it the appearance of a city lost upon the plains. The graders of the road are now working within a mile of Colton. The road passes about two miles from Riverside. Arriving at our destination, we found the new and commodious pavilion closed, on account of the non-arrival of the chandeliers for lighting, though the fair had been opened during the afternoon. The display in the Hall is a most excellent one. Riverside has outdone herself, as also has San Diego. San Gabriel, Pasadena and San Bernardino have each small exhibits, but they are very good. San Bernardino, we are told, contributes the largest orange in the fair. Mr. F. A. Kimball, of National City, is here in charge of the San Diego exhibit, which includes perhaps two-thirds of the fruits recently exhibited at the National Ranch Citrus Fair. The display as a whole is gorgeous. There are five tables seventy feet in length, and two shorter ones of perhaps fifty feet, and all loaded with the golden glory of Southern California.

The town is full of people. The two hotels are not equal to accommodating more than a quarter of the people who are very good. San Bernardino, we are told, has opened their houses, however, and are doing their utmost to accommodate all. Your correspondent, arriving late last night, found the hotels overcrowded, and all the cots, which had been provided in quantities, were taken. It seemed for some time that the only resort would have to be the soft side of a board or a dry goods box, but Mr. Frank Miller, the enterprising proprietor of the Glenwood Cottage, finally found quarters for us next door to the dry goods box—in a dry goods store—where we were tolerably comfortable.

We found L. M. Holt, of the Press, the same genial gentleman as of yore, working like a Trojan for the public good.

There are quite a number of Los Angeles people here, among them Constable and Mr. B. F. Conliffe, Mr. S. H. Bradley and daughter, Miss Emma, Miss Madeline Thompson, Mr. H. S. Dickey, Mrs. Gillette, Mr. Moritz Meyerburg, Mr. S. L. Fisher, and others. There are also a large number of distinguished strangers from abroad, among them Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson, who is now correspondent for the Century Magazine.

The formal opening of the fair will take place this evening, Thursday.

Had a grand ride over the whole of Riverside this morning, for which I am indebted to the courtesy of Mr. E. M. Sheldon, a public spirited citizen who placed a fine drive in my hands. The party consisted of Messrs. F. A. Kimball, A. T. Dewey and your correspondent. To say that the ride was enjoyable in the highest degree among the lovely plantations in no way expresses the sentiment of the whole.

Yours truly, S. J. M.

JUSTICE FISHER'S COURT.

A Long Trial and the Defendant Honestly Discharged.

Justice Fisher's court was occupied yesterday afternoon with the case of the People vs. George Brammagan, for embezzlement. The defendant is employed in the County Hospital as steward and about the middle of February a man by the name of Caffahan, an inmate of the Hospital, before dying gave Mr. Brammagan a silver watch and a gold ring on condition that the said Brammagan would pay the burial expenses, as he did not want to be buried as a pauper. This he did do in the fullest extent, but it appears there was a man working of the same institution who got jealous of the young man and wanted to get his place, and thought he could do so by accusing him of stealing eighty dollars, but it seemed nothing more than blackmail, as the testimony showed, and after hearing the testimony of Dr. Hannon, the county physician, that the young man was above reproach, and while he has been at the hospital his reputation has been of the very best. This strong evidence from such a reliable witness was all that could be asked for, but while another witness was testifying, a lady witness got excited and shouted "Dot was false!" creating a ripple of merriment. After hearing all the testimony his Honor honestly discharged the defendant, as there was not a shadow of proof.
